1. Understanding the 2e profile

2e kids are complicated

What is $2e$?

Daniel

- Math disability
- Little written production
- Profound anxiety

Jack

- Hyperactive
- Impulsive
- Severe anxiety
- Attention issues
- Class clown

Mac

- Socially awkward
- Avid reader, but only non-fiction
- Cognitively rigid
- Sees the world in black and white
- Lost in studying WWII

Sydney

- ASD diagnosis
(socially awkward,
perhaps because of high verbal abilities?)
- ADHD (but not when involved in art)
- Oppositional Defiant Behavior (but maybe because needs are not being met?)

Strengths

- Artistic
- High verbal ability

Challenges

- Argumentative
- Oppositional Defiant
- Little productivity
- Severe attention issues
- Refuses to participate in physical education
- Poor social awareness and social skills

Green includes puzzling paradoxes

- High level comprehension (need for sophisticated content) but with reading limitations.
- Creative and sophisticated ideas but difficulty putting them down on paper
- Task commitment and flow time but difficulty attending to task when things are auditory
- Potential for expertise but difficulty learning novice skills and with automaticity
- Desire to fit in but little social awareness

Puzzling paradoxes at home...

- Remembers every place you've ever been ("the human map") but can't find his shoes.
- Can give you 1,000 reasons why she needs a new cell phone to do a photographic essay assignment, but can't provide a timeline to complete the project.
- Enjoys talking about passions but doesn't notice when others don't share that passion.
- Talks about specific topics with adults but doesn't relate to age peers ("the little professor").

With their notable abilities, gifts, and talents in certain areas, 2e students can also...

- become highly anxious
- use their creativity for survival
- have low academic self-efficacy (will say they feel like failures)
- feel negative about being different (avoid accommodations)
- experience depression

Emotional
Challenges
for 2E
Students

Late Identification as having a learning disability
Negative Experiences in School

- Peer problems and teacher negativity
- Enrollment in less-than challenging classes
- Difficulty in reading and writing expression
- Retentions/self-contained special education classes
- Inappropriate (remedial) special education program
- Poor self esteem and lack of self-confidence
- Anxiety and depression

Learning Disabled/Gifted Study

Parent advocates were a primary reason that gifted students with learning disabilities are able to succeed in school and feel supported in life.

Tips from our experiences

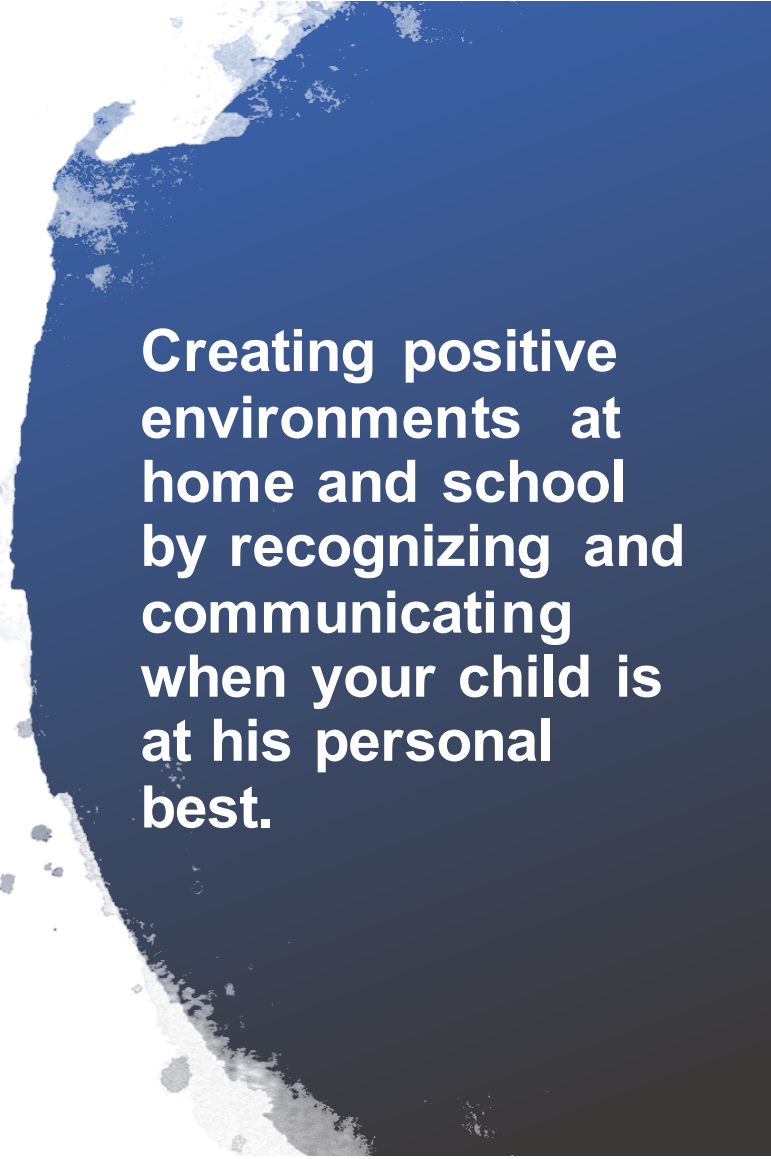

- Don't assume that 2E students will be identified in traditional school settings.
 - Never compare your 2E child to other students, their friends, or siblings.
 - Work collaboratively and Positively with School Personnel
 - Not all compensation strategies work or are appropriate for 2E students
 - Find a friend, peer, or pet to support your 2E Student

Treatment is not just fixing what is broken; it is nurturing what is best.

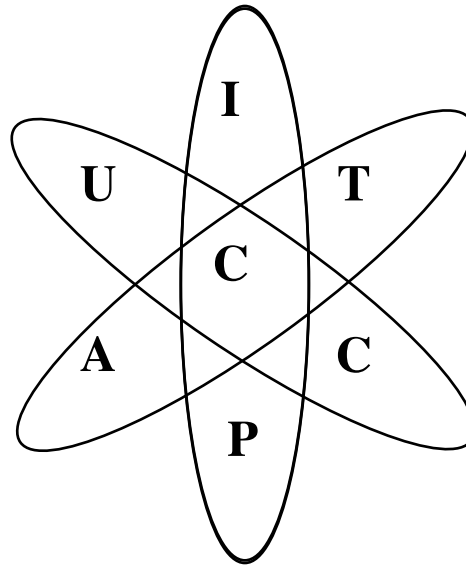

(Seligman & Csikszentmihalyi, 2000)

Shift your parenting practices away from a deficit-focus to a strength-based, talent focused approach

Creating positive environments at home and school by recognizing and communicating when your child is at his personal best.

“...we believe gifted behaviors take place in certain people (not all people), at certain times
(not all the time), and under certain circumstances
(not all circumstances).”

Strengths

Challenges

A strength-based, talent-focused approach at home and at school allows growth, even in deficit areas.

WHERE THE IEP FALLS SHORT

- COMPLEX KIDS
- IEP DOESN'T CONSIDER THE YELLOW
- GRADE LEVEL PERFORMANCE
- SPECIALIZED INSTRUCTION IS OPTIONAL
- SUPPOSED TO USE STRENGTHS AND INTERESTS

Overview of Strengths and Needs: Katelyn is a bright student who enjoys creative writing. She has difficulty with the conventions of writing (grammar, spelling, punctuation, etc.). Katelyn is shy and tends not to participate in class. She does enjoy participating in her literature circles when she is with students with whom she feels comfortable. Katelyn has difficulty with organization and following multi-step directions.

IEP Goals and Progress Markers (P.M.)	Accommodations and Modifications
Writing Goal: Given a writing assignment, Katelyn will write a multi-paragraph essay that includes a clear thesis statement, supporting examples and details, and no more than 3 spelling errors. P.M.: Katelyn will select a graphic organizer 100% of the time when preparing a writing draft. P.M.: Katelyn will generate one main idea or thesis statement for the topic 4 out of 5 times. P.M.: Katelyn will be able to generate supporting examples or details for each main idea. P.M.: Katelyn will correctly spell high frequency words and make fewer than 5 errors per multi-paragraph writing assignment.	Accommodations: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Use of pencil grips • Allow student to type homework • Reduce amount of in-class writing required (e.g., provide a copy of class notes, reduce length of journal entries required) • Provide a checklist for checking conventions of writing • Divide long writing assignments into “chunks” with individual due dates; for example, first the graphic organizer is due, then the rough draft, then the paper with teacher checklist, and finally the finished paper • Write daily agenda and objectives on the board • Require a homework organizer Modifications: (can be delivered by the general educator, special educator, or a related service provider) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Work on proper pencil grip • Provide mini-lessons on grammar, punctuation, and other writing conventions • Receive specific instruction in spelling at least 3x per week; instruction should include work with high frequency words and instruction in spelling conventions • Teach specific writing graphic organizers such as Story Maps, Webbing, Compare and Contrast, or Sequence Chain
TESTING ACCOMMODATIONS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Extended time on tests • Use of the computer, if requested by student

ACCOMMODATIONS ALONE ARE NOT SUFFICIENT

Students need dual differentiation to thrive.
Design curriculum using a strength-based lens.

DUAL
DIFFERENTIATION

Differentiation for Interests/Talent:

- Intellectually engaging
- Relevant
- Purposeful

Differentiation for Deficits:

- Access
- Processing
- Communication

- Drawings are being considered for an art exhibit at a local Gallery in Culver City. The Japanese style comics (Manga) have been such an inspiration that she is currently studying Japanese (she'll visit Japan this summer) and will be an exhibitor at the Anime Expo 2010.
- Classes over the past five years at Art Center in Pasadena and Brentwood Art School. She continues to sculpt, draw, and create comic/graphic novels.
- Artwork has been displayed at Art Center, Brentwood Art, the Beverly Hills and she created a wall mural for Bridges.
- Accepted into Cal Art's prestigious summer program, Inner Sparks (sponsored by Governor Schwarzenegger). And more....

Programs that work

1. Psychologically safe environment
2. Time as a variable
3. Tolerance for asynchronous development
4. Positive relationships
5. Strength-based, talent focused, Interest-based approaches

Parents' Toolkit for 2E kids

- Understand your 2E child's profiles of strengths and deficits
- Show him or her unequivocal love and support—make sure that they feel safe, respected, and valued
- Shift your parenting practices away from a deficit-focus to a strength-based, talent focused approach, by
 - Organize learning opportunities in ways that fit their academic and interests (unique brain wiring)
 - Provide options for creative fun activities that enable your children to choose how they can communicate what they have learned
 - Find ways to help your 2E students access the curriculum in ways that align to their strengths and interests, while avoiding a complete focus on problematic weaknesses (if they can't take notes, give them the notes).
- Provide talent development opportunities (Type I, II, III) and let your children enjoy part of each day doing these.

Students with special needs: It's not just about their deficits!

- Sara and all of the IEP meetings! Why didn't I know what to ask?
- Susan Baum's advice: Stop telling us what she can't do and start telling us what she can do.
- Who is the most passionate teacher at this school?

High School experiences caused her to be depressed, worried, anxious, and to feel she was not good at anything..

We completely changed course--

Talent Development, Not Deficit Reduction!

Stop focusing on deficits and start focusing on strengths!
